ARTICLE V GOVERNANCE

SECTION 1. DEFINITION

SECTION 5. REMOVING A BOARD MEMBER

Although members of the Board serve a fixed term, a member may under certain circumstances be removed by a majority vote of the full Board. Differences of opinion are expected and respected and do not, of themselves, constitute grounds for dismissal of a member. If a member fails to meet the requirements of Board membership (Section 4), is unable to meet individual and group responsibilities, or demonstrates illegal or unethical behavior or a pattern of disruptive behavior, other members may request a discussion of the particulars and a vote for removal of the member. Discussion and vote of the Board to remove a Board member will be conducted in closed session unless the Board member being considered for removal requests the discussion and vote be conducted in an open meeting.
